2. This program is a management development tool designed to provide high potential executives from the Federal Government and the private sector the opportunity to work in the opposite sector for one year. This experience helps to promote a better understanding of the problems and challenges of the other sector, to exchange new and effective management techniques, and to enhance the professional growth of the executives selected. Candidates are to have a proven record of management ability including significant on-the-job accomplishments; have a high intellectual capacity and demonstrated leadership ability; and the potential to become a member of the Senior Executive Service. The Agency had two employees in this program in 1978 and hosted an executive from the private sector in 1979.
